

the Rose Essences

Dear Rose Family

I want to share something with you from my heart. As many of you know, creating and offering these Rose products is an act of devotion for me. They are more than just oils and bottles - they carry the essence of love, healing, and beauty that I wish to share with as many people as possible.

Recently, the cost of pure Rose oil has risen significantly, and so have the prices of the glass bottles and packaging that hold these precious drops. This has been a difficult truth for me to face, because I deeply want these offerings to remain accessible to everyone.

It saddens me to let you know that I will be increasing my prices. I do this not from a place of wanting more, but simply because without it I would be running at a loss. The reality is that I already keep my margins very low, as my priority has always been to make these sacred products available to you rather than to profit from them.

I hope you can understand this change, and I trust that you feel the love, care, and intention that continues to infuse every bottle. Your support means so much - not just to me, but to the work of the Rose itself, touching lives with its healing fragrance.

With gratitude and love,
Francesca
